SPIRIT WEEK: A CELEBRATION OF CREATIVITY AND COMMUNITY

There's no better way to end the semester than with a week full of laughter, self-expression, and school pride, and that's exactly what Spirit Week is all about! Students and staff came together to celebrate community and creativity through a lineup of fun daily themes that encouraged everyone to show off their personality and connect beyond the classroom.

FEATURED SCHOLAR

NOEL MORALES

I am an Athletic school. I'm a leader. I like sports & I enjoy social with my peers and other students in HBCU. I'm a chill guy, but can range from locked in academically to free, fun and fly.

PRINCIPAL'S CORNER

Dr. Asya Johnson Founding IA Principal

As we enter this season of gratitude, I am deeply thankful for the scholars, families, and staff who make HBCU Early College Prep a true community of excellence, culture, and purpose. November reminds us to pause, reflect, and appreciate how far we've come together.

From our first Spirit Week to academic milestones and service projects, each of you continues to embody our motto, "Be the Dream".

As we prepare for Thanksgiving, let us remember the spirit of Ubuntu: I am because we are. May this season bring rest, reflection, and renewed commitment to our shared vision of legacy, ingenuity, and power. Thank you for the love, dedication, and belief you bring into our Hive every day.

"THE FUTURE BELONGS TO THOSE WHO PREPARE FOR IT TODAY."
