

Walking through history at Lincoln University

Our scholars didn't just visit a campus.. they stepped into a legacy of brilliance, resilience, and Black excellence that continues to shape generations. From the footsteps of greatness to the vision of what's possible, this experience reminded us that we are part of something much bigger.

PRINCIPAL'S CORNER

Dr. Asya Johnson Founding IA Principal

As we welcome the month of April, we proudly recognize Autism Awareness Month at HBCU Early College Prep. At the Hive, we believe brilliance comes in many forms, and every scholar deserves to feel seen, valued, and celebrated for exactly who they are. Autism awareness is not only about understanding differences, it is about honoring them. Our school community is strongest when we create spaces where scholars can learn authentically, communicate confidently, and embrace the gifts that make them unique. Being different is not something to hide; it is something to be proud of. Innovation, creativity, leadership, and courage often begin with those who see the world differently. This month, we encourage our scholars, professors, and families to continue leading with empathy, patience, inclusion, and Ubuntu, "I am because we are." Together, we will continue building a community where every scholar feels empowered to thrive and Be the Dream.

"EDUCATION IS THE KEY TO UNLOCK THE GOLDEN DOOR OF FREEDOM."

It All Matters.

- The Divine Nine fraternities and sororities have shaped generations of Black leadership, activism, and service.
- STEM fields are thriving thanks to HBCUs, which produce a disproportionate number of Black engineers, scientists, and tech innovators.
